The President.

Our latest report from the President is up to Friday noon. He now sits up in his chair portion of every day, and partakes of nutritious food. The period of anxiety has passed, and it is now looked upon as certain that he is improving every day. The great majority of fifty millions of his countrymen rejoice at this favorable aspect in the President's condition.

Railroad Matters.

Speaking of the alleged war between the Central and Union Pacific railroads and the rumored combinations and proposed extensions by both of these corporations, the Denver Tribune very pertinently says: Railroad men are very conspicuous for the facility with which they subordinate their angry feelings to their interests, and whenever a compromise is the profitable thing for both sides we may be sure that the war cannot last long. Looking at the situation from this point of view, we may have but little fear that either the Union or the Central Pacific will carry its threats into execution. Each would doubtless like to have two connections instead of one, from Ogden. But the Union Pacific will not build from Ogden to the Pacific, and the Central Pacific will not build from Ogden to the Missouri. The latter, however, may have a connection to the Missouri independent of the Union Pacific. In fact it is almost certain to have one. That the Burlington will be extended to Denver is beyond doubt, and that the Rio Grande will push on to Ogden, after it reaches Salt Lake, is equally assured.

In this connection, people naturally ask what is to become of the Union Pacific, and they wonder if Gould has lost his skill in compromises. They forget that the rumor that he has sold out the bulk of his Union Pacific stock at high figures may be true. The signs point this way. Although he has sold he still has his friends in the directory, and will have until the next annual election. These can shape such a mad policy for the road as to involve it in endless fights and nearly destroy its value. Thus its stock will be sent tumbling down to the vicinity of zero, when Gould will be able to buy it in again, affect some skillful settlement of its complications, and make several millions on another boom. This surmise is not only possible; it is probable.

Strange Phenomenon.

New England experienced a strange phenomenon on the 7th inst. A dispatch from Boston says: From morning to sunset the atmosphere was in a curious condition, exciting much comment, and in instances creating alarm. While the air as viewed from a window or looking into the sky, appeared to be free from fog and mist, the sun was totally obscured, the atmosphere pervaded with a yellowish light, which lent a strange appearance to every object. On the Common the grass presented an unnatural appearance, its vivid green looking as though the result of a coat of paint. The gas jets, which ordinarily show a yellowish light brown, shone with a white brilliancy similar to electric lights. In all directions distances appeared to be shortened. Through the windows near and far could be seen the starlike points of a white light, resembling little electric lamps, but being in reality gas jets. The phenomenon was noticeable in New Hampshire, and as far north as Portland. C. F. Emerson, Professor of Natural Philosophy and Astronomy at Dartmouth College, says it must have been something in the atmosphere which absorbed the shortest and longest wave length, leaving only those which give the color of yellow and green. He thinks it may be owing to pollen from fir and pine trees, together with the smoke from the forest fires in Canada.

The "Bullion," an influential mining paper published in New York, comes out in favor of working mines on the assessment plan.

A Step in Advance.

Decidedly Germany is beginning to possess the makings of freedom of the press. The editor of a Berlin newspaper was recently arranged on a charge of having asserted that Bismarck favored the anti Jewish agitation, and has been acquitted, on the ground that "if the accused believed the attitude of the Government indirectly promoted anti-Jewish excesses, he had a perfect right to express his opinion to that effect." That is a marked step in advance, and must have given the Prussian Chancellor a disagreeable quarter of an hour. If he cannot prevent the Courts from protecting the liberty of the press he will be obliged to change his methods of governing in many important particulars, and he has always entertained a strong dislike for newspapers, save as convenient agents for his autocratic will. But the world moves, even at Berlin.

Great Men that Differ.

The Eureka Sentinel says that it always affords it the greatest pleasure to produce the emanations of the Sixth Judicial District Court, because, in point of interest to the general reader, they totally eclipse the productions of the most thrilling romances of this or any other age. Judge Rives and our Congressman don't write with the same quill. Cassidy is the greatest prosier of all the scribes of ancient or modern times.

TIMES must be lively in Chicago. A dispatch from that city says the clearings for the week ending September 3d were $90,500,000, which is more than double the usual amount and is $35,000,000 greater than any previous week in the history of the city. This will cause the St. Louisians many restless nights.

THERE are now 250,000 confirmed opium eaters in the United States, three-fourths of the number being women. The vice is constantly growing, and unless something is done to check the indiscriminate sale of the drug it will rival alcohol in a few years. This poison is eating out the heart of China, and it seems to have its fangs well fixed on America.

It is said that Jay Gould controls 11,714 miles of railroad, the value of which at the present price, is $560,300,000. Gould does not own all the stock of these roads, but he has formed alliances which enable him to control the entire stock. He also controls the Western Union Telegraph Company, the stock of which is valued at $86,000,000.

God keeps a list of the rich men who cheat their neighbors, says Henry Ward Beecher. If this is the case, it must be a tolerable long one by this time.

Rich Silver Ores.

William Hudson, of Colconda, says the Silver State; has discovered a ledge in Eden range, some twelve or fourteen miles north of that station, which carries silver ore that assays from $200 to $1,000 per ton. He is at work opening the lead, and the prospects of finding a good mine are said to be very encouraging. It is located in the eastern part of Eden District, which was organized a year or two since by James Farrell.

Died.

All in need of his professional services will please call at once and make appointment, and the work will be performed to their entire satisfaction. Cherry Creek, Sept. 17, 1881.

Caution.

THE PUBLIC ARE HEREBY CAUTIONED against buying or negotiating for a certain promissory note, dated on or about November, A. D. 1880, for the sum of $300. Given by George Madalena and Chris. Fiora, in favor of Sanford Hall and B. F. Clark, as the same was obtained by false pretenses, without consideration, and will not be paid. GEO. MADALENA. Cherry Creek, Sept. 17, 1881.
